

FLEXIBLE FOOD PACKAGING

PAC Worldwide offers a variety of sustainable flexible food packaging solutions, including roll stock, standard pouches, and stand-up pouches. Our wide range of substrates allows us to customize the perfect package for your specific needs.

Perfect solution for items that need food-grade protective packaging:

general food

candy & snacks

pet food

processed food

fresh food

FEATURES & BENEFITS:

- BOPP, Coextruded PE, and PET films are available in various thicknesses and finishes, from opaque to transparent. These films offer several benefits for packaging products, such as improved mechanical properties like tear resistance, puncture resistance, and tensile strength.
- These multi-functional films are also cost-effective, as they are lightweight, more affordable than other packaging solutions, and can serve multiple purposes.
- Our portfolio of films can be customized to provide superior protection against external factors like moisture and oxygen extending the shelf life. Our films are durable and tear-resistant, protecting your product during handling, transportation, and storage.
- Food-grade closures and heat-sealing maintain the integrity of your product, preventing tampering, and contamination.
- PAC's films and adhesives are FDA-compliant, and manufacturing processes are FSC certified.

PRODUCT TYPES

- Stand-up pouch: our stand-up pouch features a flexible design with a gusseted bottom for easy display.
- Standard pouch: our standard pouch is sealed on the sides and has a single seal on the bottom. This style of pouches can lay flat, be packed, or feature a hang hole.
- Roll stock: our roll stock is ideal for a wide variety of products — everything from snack bars to single-serve sample packs.
